HISTORY

In 1888 Tamworth became the first town in Australia & the southern hemisphere to provide its residents with electric street lighting. The Powerhouse hotel was built on the old power station or 'power house' site in 1986 - hence the name! You will see artwork & design influences throughout the hotel that reference this unique & intriguing history. The obelisk at the front of the hotel was erected to celebrate the history of Tamworth as the First City of Lights.

POWERHOUSE MOTORCYCLE MUSEUM
